ROOF CAVED IN

We are in a building seeking shelter from the storm when the roof caved in. There were about 150 other people with me at the time. All fell to a schoolhouse a block away.

It was a pitiful sight to see that many people running through the driving rain, unable to find a headway against the terrific force of the wind. Many were crying hysterically and some were whispering prayers. I wanted to die; their voices almost drowned mine. AUTOS TORN UP Electrical signs had been down. The Meyer-Kiser Bank was the worst hit. Every window broken and huge holes gaped in the walls.

The Columbus and McAllister hotels almost every other building along Bay Shore Drive suffered. Bay Shore Drive was littered with mangled hulks of automobiles, many of which had been lifted clear of the street and deposited in front of the buildings.

Along Bay Shore Drive are numerous second-hand dealers who park cars in lots in the open. These lots were virtually ripped to pieces and the cars scattered about.

At that time no word had been heard from Miami Beach, but it was reported that large sections of the Venetian causeway had been torn up. The Venetian causeway, however, appeared to be intact, although authorities would not permit any attempt to cross it.

It also was reported that the causeway had been ripped loose from the Seaweed Hotel in Miami Beach and that the entire beach section was in a state of confusion.

The stories about him being mentally unlit are all the bunk. I spent all day with him, and he acted just like a carefree kid. I asked him about the Kearns suit that comes up tomorrow and he replied laughingly, "What does one suit more or less matter? I have had so many of them lately that I look upon them all as a joke."

If Dempsey has been grouchy or surly with his handlers or trainers he showed no evidence of it today. He feels and says he has proved to his own satisfaction while in training that he is in just as good condition as he was for the Fipco or Willard bouts, and, of course, he expects to win.

The story about him having a lot of guards around his house is all wrong. Capt. Seth Surlinger and I sat in the parlor of his cottage today while perhaps twenty strangers came to the front door to say hello and wish him well, but we never saw any sign of guards or necessity for them. Jack greeted everybody with a smile and a courteous word. It's hard to make comparisons of past and present champions, but in my opinion, Dempsey is the best heavyweight fighter that ever held

Acorns Arrive for Do-or-Die Series with Title Bound Angels

PLAY ELEVEN GAME SERIES

Oaks Must Win Every Contest to Take Lead

Seraphs Ten Games in Van of Second Team

Four Double-headers on Tap This Week

BY BOB RAY

Ivan Howard's ambitious Acorns from Oakland, whose pennant hopes are growing fainter and fainter as the league-leading Angels refuse to lose any of their lengthy lead, arrive here today to open an eleven-game series with the Seraphs.

MARTY KRUG

The Angels enter the series ten games ahead of the Oaks and to pass the Seraphs the Howard team will have to take all eleven titles, a task that comes under the head of the impossible, but very improbable. Ivan Howard holds no such illusions that the Oaks will pass the Angels during the coming series, but he does believe that the Acorns will be able to whittle down the lead so that they will have a chance to slip past the Seraphs during the final three weeks of the season.

After meeting the Angels the Oaks will play the Seraphs again, three games not counted on to give the Howardmen much opposition. Hollywood has been playing the best ball of the three. For their final three series the Angels must face the Seraphs, the Missions and Portland, which is certainly a much tougher layout than that which confronts the Acorns.

Marty Krug was feeling rather jubilant yesterday morning when he arrived home with his squad from a two week road trip that took them to Oakland and Sacramento.

"Not only did we get by both of those tough road teams in good shape," says the Seraph skipper, "but we returned with a ten-game lead and the season has only a month to go. As long as we continue to hold our own we're getting by splendidly, because we're also cutting down the Oaks' time in which they have to overtake us."

ANGLERS CATCH BIG FISH AT CATALINA

AVALON, Sept. 20.—Marlin swordfish are running in Catalina waters and sport anglers are making record catches of striped sea-tigers. Three marlin were taken early today and four were brought to gaff yesterday. Ernest Crawford May of Pasadena, fishing with Capt. Enzo Vera, brought to gaff a 185-pound marlin. E. A. Patterson caught a 140-pound marlin and E. W. Brown a baby swordfish weighing ninety pounds. George Thomas, III, fishing with Capt. George Harwood, took a 160-pound marlin. Dr. Earl O'Donnell of Los Angeles caught a 150-pound swordfish. Steve Brode, fishing with Ted Grey, brought to gaff a 165-pound marlin and Capt. Eaton, a boatman, caught his own swordfish to finish out the day, a 185-pounder.

HAGEN OFF TO P.G.A. GOLF LEAD

Peerless Pro Leads Medal Play With 140 Strokes in Annual Championship

GARDEN CITY (N. Y.) Sept. 20. (Exclusive)—Walter Hagen, peerless American professional golfer, stroked home with a 69 on his afternoon round over the Salisbury links here this afternoon and thereby chalked up a thirty-six-hole aggregate of 140 to top medal honors in the Professional Golf Association championship that will find the thirty-two best big guns in the country starting match play tomorrow.

Hagen today was the same unflinching Walter who defeated Wild Bill Meiborn in the overtime match for the championship of the paid-to-play fraternity last year and is an outstanding favorite to retain his crown in the current classic.

Sixty-four golfers, representing every section of the country, started their thirty-six-hole qualifying hole today and by nightfall the field had been cut to half—the thirty-two players with the lowest scores being paired for match play starting early in the morning.

Bobby Cruikshank, Al Watrous, Cyril Walker, Gene Sarazen, Jim Barnes, Bill Meiborn and many other nationally famous stars, many of them former title-holders, were included in the medal field today.

VON ELM BACK NEXT TUESDAY

More Than 10,000 Fans to Welcome Star

Rancho Club Bids Golfers Join Celebration

Blond Champ Representative Greens Leader

BY BILL WISE

George (Jugs) Von Elm of the Rancho Club—not only the man who won the national amateur championship at Baltusrol last week, but the man who defeated the fast stepping Bobby Jones, is resting at home of his parents in Salt Lake City and will step off the train here two weeks from today to face the greatest homecoming reception ever accorded a native son.

The same blond youngster that started packing bags over the Salt Lake Country Club course nearly fifteen years ago after two noble attempts, is mounting the throne that threatened to become a life resting place for the sensational Atlanta golfer.

Von Elm has been threatening Jones for more than two years. Jones represented an unegotiated style in the golfing path of the California hurricane, but while Bobby was defeating the best players in the world to win the British open championship, Von Elm was finishing but four strokes behind after the most grueling seventy-two-hole test imaginable.

A recent reorganization removed several of Von Elm's personal friends from the board of directors of the Rancho club. George was overseas at the time and, with an honorary life membership awaiting him in every club in California, the local fraternity awaited George's return expectantly.

George came back and after a talk with Fred Johnson, Rancho president, stated positively that he had no intention of severing his connections with the club.

In the hospitable wake of Johnson, Tom Oakley, secretary, and other fast functioning executives are planning a great celebration that will even outside the sentimental homecoming tendered Bobby Jones when he returned to Atlanta with the British open crown.

Uncle Eddie Turf, dean of all that is golf in California, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and all other local clubs will be invited to affiliate at the reception planned to sweep Von Elm from a Pullman car into the arms of a crowd that can not even be conservatively estimated at less than 10,000—all personal friends of the greatest amateur golfer the West has ever known.

The championship with perhaps one exception, namely, Jim Jeffries. If Jeff and Dempsey had fought when they were both at their best, it would have been the greatest fight in the history of the game and a toss-up as to who would win.

OUTSIDE CHANCE

Tunney has a chance, but in my opinion, only an outside one. Any strong, clever young boxer with lots of gameness is liable to cop at any time, but I think Tunney is a couple of years too soon.

Dempsey will return to Los Angeles as soon as he can straighten out his legal troubles, and says that if he wins he will be prepared to meet any worth-while challenger the public picks within six months. He will not fight Harry Wills for the championship under any conditions, but will fight him for a side bet of $100,000 any time Wills or his backers put up the money.

Jack sends greetings to all his Los Angeles friends and says he feels as fit and strong as he ever did.

Laswell and Barrow Pull Huge Surprise

Maynard Laswell, the national handball champion, and his partner, George Barrow, sprung the sensation of the round-robin tourney at the L.A.A.C. by running 114 points to their opponents' 14 in three games yesterday. Their victory put them in second place, with a total of 269 points in three matches. Carragher and Ribes are first with 469 points in five matches. Reed and Lyon are among the leaders with 187 points in three matches; Alauzet and Andrews have 228 points; Lute Crockett and Zack Farmer, 222 points; Svalow and Lincoln, 215; Agliano and Dore, 214 points. Charley Keppen and partner added 81 points to their total yesterday by defeating Gwynn Wilson and Phil Ellsworth.

JACK SILVER IS MATCHED

Lengthy Scrapper to Meet Thompson on Card of Three Ten-Round Battles Signed Yesterday by Joe Levy

Three ten-round battles will supply the fireworks at the next boxing show of the Olympic Auditorium, the contracts having been closed late yesterday by Matchmaker Joe Levy. The bouts will be staged September 28, the switch from Wednesday to Tuesday per the Boxing Commission's orders being effected at this time.

In the main event Jack Silver, the elongated San Francisco lightweight who defeated Nushy Callahan, will oppose Jack Thompson, a colored lad said by such experts as "Pop" Foster to be the equal of Baby Joe Gans.

Young Nationalists, who returns to Los Angeles after an absence in the east and in the Northwest, will meet Teddy Silva, the Portuguese sharpshooter, who was robbed of a decision over George Rivers at Hollywood last night, in the estimation of about nine-tenths of the audience.

In the opening ten-round fracas Young Harry Wills of San Diego is billed to meet Billy Adams, who gave Johnny Heiser a sound thrashing at the Olympic last week. Wills' last appearance at the Olympic was against Paul De Hae, whom he was beating when he let a wild one go and fouled the Compton boy.

Five Laddies Win Game from Rivals

SAN FERNANDO, Sept. 20.—Los Angeles fire department championship nine, managed by J. H. Cruz. Both pitchers struck out nine men each. An error on San Fernando let in two runs. Los Angeles made its other five runs on a home run and consistent playing. A return game is being arranged by Manager Gentry and Chief of Police E. B. Rice.

NAVY GRID SEASON IS OFF TODAY

Rebels Play Tennessee in Opening Football Contest of Year

Five thousand sailors from the battle fleet, from Vice-Admiral Louis R. De Steiguer down to the greenest boot, will be on hand at Trona Field this afternoon for the opening of the grid season. Two tough teams from Battleship Division Five, representing the U.S.S. West Virginia and the U.S.S. Tennessee, will go into action at 2 o'clock.

It promises to be a hot battle. From previous performance the Tennessee should nose out the Mountaineers, although on the two occasions that the eleven have met the West Virginia has beaten the Rebels by close margins.

Lieutenant-Commander Carleton Wright, coaching the West Virginia outfit, has this fall given the Mountaineers the benefit of the experience of one of the best line men in the history of the Naval Academy. The team is hard and fast in practice.

The U.S.S. Colorado returned to the fleet yesterday afternoon after a long stay at the Puget Sound navy yard for regumming and overhaul. A half hour after she dropped anchor the Colorado's molemen squad was en route to the beach for practice.

LIFE BENEATH GROUND HINTED

Expert Cites Development of Ventilation Says Man Can Juggle Mercury and Humidity Asserts Climate Unchanging in Centuries

TOLEDO, Sept. 20. (Exclusive)—Persons in scores of American cities of the future may drive on underground roads, live in underground homes and work in underground offices as a result of the development of the science of ventilation or electrical air control, according to W. S. Currier, head of the United States Weather Bureau in Toledo.

That will be one way of getting away from the vagaries of bad weather and solving the congestion problem in centers of population, Currier said. It would assure a supply of clean air in these subterranean passages which was more than the cave-dwellers of several thousand years ago had, he pointed out.

JUGGLE TEMPERATURE
"Men juggle temperature and humidity around like so many balls and create lake breezes by powerful fan machinery," Currier added. "But I doubt that they can manufacture weather for the great outdoors. Of course, wonders have been accomplished within buildings but artificially created rain, man-produced sunshine or snow at command is a challenge that is ridiculous."

"In Toledo and all over the Middle West," in spite of complaints about the heat, the summer average was slightly below normal. The average temperature has been 71.0 and normal is 71.1. June was 4 deg. below normal; July .04 below and August 1.80 above.

"The moisture in the air or humidity drops as the day progresses if the sun is shining. Of course, the capacity of the air to form moisture

CUBAN POLICE CALLED IDEAL

Police Chief Vollmer of Berkeley Returns from Havana; Went to Organize Force, Slays to Learn

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20. (Exclusive)—Havana, Cuba, has the most ideal police force in the world. There is no police department in the United States that can compare with it, and instead of offering suggestions for the betterment of the department of Havana, I found myself in the position of taking observations from what I saw while there.

This is the way Chief of Police August Vollmer of Berkeley, who has spent five weeks in Havana at the request of the Cuban government to reorganize the police of Havana, described conditions as he found them upon his return to San Francisco today on the Panama-Pacific liner Mongolia. Chief Vollmer was accompanied to Cuba by M. A. Vollmer.

"The police forces of Cuba are now being Federalized," Chief Vollmer said, "and the force numbers approximately 25,000. Havana is one of the most law-abiding and safest cities in the world, and is much freer from crime than any city in the United States. After making a study of criminology for several years I found after a short stay in Havana that I had nothing to offer that would improve police conditions there. There are seventeen police stations in Havana and the city proper has 2400 police officers."

"Before becoming a member of the police department of any city in Cuba, all applicants must take a rigid examination after having passed the examinations prescribed by the police academy, which is presided over by Maj. Pablo Mandato."

"The Cuban authorities are now constructing what is said to be the most up with the temperature. And temperature takes up more space in the air as it rises. An ideal climate, other things being equal, would be a temperature of 65 and moisture below 50. Air motion plays a big part."

"Moisture is good for vegetation but not so good for animal life. The lake regions, naturally, have more moisture in the air than other sections of the country. Moisture brings about the sticky feeling. People often don't realize it's hot until the thermometer reminds them."

CLIMATE UNCHANGING
Currier had a good laugh over the suggestion that climates are changing or moving around.

"Not within the life of any man does a climate change," he said. "It happens once in a thousand years, perhaps. The trouble is that people forget. Ask any one what the weather was on any particular day last month or last year and he will be unable to tell you. Only certain outstanding blizzards or rains, usually associated with some startling experience, will serve the memory. No, the climate is about the same as it was when your grandfather was a boy."

AL JOLSON'S 'ROTTEN' IN FILM TRIAL

Comedian Tells Judge in $500,000 Suit That He Feared to Be Seen

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. (Exclusive)—Al Jolson, black-face comedian, was a witness before Judge Grub in Federal Court today, and admitted with a grin that, in moving pictures, he is "rotten." There was $500,000 at stake in the suit for damages brought against Jolson by D. W. Griffith, film producer, and the comedian was anxious to make his point. "Very poor" and "brutal" were terms he added to his first description of his only appearance on the screen.

Jolson, who came daily from Boston for a week to attend sessions of the trial, and returned there to play an engagement, testified that unless he had left for Europe after his film test, a nervous breakdown surely would have overtaken him. The suit is based on his departure, which Mr. Griffith contends was in breach of contract.

The comedian explained that he had intended to become a moving-picture actor because, for the past ten years, his voice had been "going back." He said that he never signed a formal contract with the producer, although a strip of film was taken to test his ability on the screen. When he saw the results of the test he said he feared that a completed picture would damage his stage reputation.

"One of my friends who was with us when we witnessed that strip of film," he said, "said it was so rotten that if people saw it in it they would not want to see me on the stage."

Miss Harrison, petite screen actress, who had been engaged to appear with Jolson, in "Mammy's Boy," contradicted Jolson's statement, that, in his own opinion he "looked rotten" in the film. Miss Harrison said she sat beside Jolson in the Cameo Theater while the sample strip was being shown.

"I think it's great," was Jolson's expressed opinion of the film, according to her testimony.

STRINGS TIED TO MADDOCK OFFER

Defeated Candidate Willing to Support Rival Would Force River Policy on E. S. Clark

PHOENIX, Sept. 20. (Exclusive)—Thomas Maddock, defeated for Republican nomination for Governor by E. S. Clark, has offered his support to his successful rival—but with an attached string. The string is that Mr. Clark will accept Mr. Maddock's expression of views on the subject of the Colorado River's development. Inasmuch as Mr. Maddock's supporters during the campaign declared that Gov. Hunt could his Colorado River platform from Mr. Maddock's published expressions, thus there might be presented the anomaly of Clark's acceptance also of the views of his Democratic opponent.

Maddock insists that the river is "the issue in this campaign." He wants assurance that all water stored shall be used within this nation; that all water originating in Arizona shall be held the property of this State; that the river be not nationalized; that all improvements upon it shall be held taxable by the State; that control and taxation of reservoirs located in two States "be divided in proportion to the natural resources contributed by each State," and that "Arizona be entitled to revenues from valuable dam sites, as well as investments developing them; that after water for Nevada has been set aside, the balance of the river's flow shall be equally divided between California and Arizona," and that Arizona shall object to any river development until all of this has been agreed upon by the States and national government. Mr. Maddock apparently has appointed himself as successor to the Colorado River Commission that was established by Congress.

A Striking Contrast

THE home owner who carries a short-term 7% loan on his property and continues renewing during a period of fifteen years, pays out in interest alone a sum greater than the principal amount of his loan—and the original indebtedness still stands.

In striking contrast, is the case of the home owner who adopts our fifteen-year amortized form of loan. He pays only 6% interest, and reduces the principal 3% every six months with the result that his interest payments become less and less. At the end of the fifteen-year period his loan is repaid and interest ceases. The actual savings is astonishing to the person who has never figured it.

May we show you how this form of loan would work out in your individual case?

Business: The Associated Telephone Utilities Company, incorporated in Delaware, controls through stock ownership a group of public utility properties serving without competition a total population in excess of 220,000 in California, Wisconsin and Illinois. The subsidiary companies are engaged primarily in the telephone business, operating 35,764 stations having toll connections with the Bell System.

Properties: The principal properties consist of independent telephone systems serving at the present time 35,764 stations. These properties are all in excellent operating condition. Those in Long Beach and San Bernardino, California, are practically new as Long Beach was changed over to full automatic service in 1922 and San Bernardino in 1925. In each of these cities the operating Company owns new central office buildings which were built with the idea of providing for the substantial increase in business anticipated during the next five years. A new central office building was completed and equipment installed in Belvidere, Illinois, a few months ago and in Mineral Point, Wisconsin, in 1924.

CONSOLIDATED INCOME ACCOUNT—YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1926 (Upon completion of present financing)

Annual Dividend Requirement on $7 Cumulative Prior Preferred Stock (this issue)	70,896.00
Balance	$207,873.25

Balance available for dividends and reserves for the year ended June 30, 1926 was $278,769, or more than 3 1/2 times the annual dividend requirement on the Cumulative Prior Preferred Stock.

Territory: The California territory includes the cities of Long Beach, with a present population of about 125,000, and San Bernardino, with a population of about 37,000. Both cities are primarily residential but also contain substantial industrial interests. Long Beach is the center of a rich agricultural territory and San Bernardino is in the heart of the citrus fruit country. In the Wisconsin and Illinois territory the chief characteristic of each of the cities served is that it is the center of a very prosperous agricultural community devoted to a large extent to dairying and the raising of live stock.

Franchises: The subsidiary properties are operated under valid franchises and rights. In the opinion of counsel, the franchise situation is satisfactory and imposes no burdensome restrictions upon the Company. The subsidiary companies operate under the supervision of state regulatory commissions.

Wheat Futures Score Moderate Gain in Trading

CHICAGO, Sept. 20. (Reuters)—There was a let-up in the pressure on the wheat market, and while December was off 1/2c early in the day, it recovered to 1 1/2c by the close. The
speculation and a forecast for the weather in the Canadian Northwest. The close was on a recession of 1/2c from the top to 1 1/2c.
December, 1 1/2c; September, 1 1/2c; May, 1 1/2c.
1 1/2c. Winnipeg closing 1 1/2c higher. Locals were on an upswing, with September and May selling at a new low on the crop, the near-by delivery dropping to 1 1/2c, where it stood, while May was down to 1 1/2c, with the bulk at 1 1/2c.
December was 1 1/2c at the last, all delivered being 1 1/2c from September. December 1 1/2c, while May was unchanged, with September 1 1/2c and December 1 1/2c.

There was no material move in wheat in the local market during the session, but the short side on the decline, due to a lack of commission house pressure. There was aggressive buying at times by house with eastern connections, which, with short covering under 1 1/2c for December by local operators, was a factor in making the strong rally. House activity covered at Winnipeg and more time off selling for house with eastern connections. The livestock at interior elevators in the three grain markets were 2,747,000 bushels.

No movement was shown in the heavy demand for cash wheat and it was doubtful if it would reach 1 1/2c. The demand for hard winter at the port was reported as largely covered, although there was some time ago. Bulk of 100,000 bushels was made to go to store for delivery on September contracts. An increase of 1,000,000 bushels in the winter supply failed to have much effect, although the total is now 72,130,000 bushels, against 40,977,000 bushels last year. Speculation in wheat prices increased 400,000 bushels for the week, and world's shipments were larger than reported. Liverpool closed unchanged at 1 1/2c.

Legislation was in the air, and with step measures concerned on the way down, a decline was nearly attained. Support was lacking, except as it was furnished by shorts and by speculators at this. Local traders were bullish and there were numerous reports from down-State indicating that the outlook for the new crop was better than would be naturally expected. The country offered some to arrive on a liberal scale, yet purchases required of 215,000 bushels. There were warehouse receipts for 800 bushels in a local public elevator posted up out of condition.

Output Still Mystery
The real rate of production of the mysterious No. 1 well of the Wilshire Oil Company in the west end of Huntington Beach continues to be a mystery. The well has been flowing at a rate estimated at the west from 1000 to 2000 barrels a day, and yet so far as anyone knows, no oil has been shipped from the lease, which has storage facilities for only 4500 barrels.

Get Fair Guess
The Beliance No. 2 well of the Beliance Home Investment Company in the Los Cerritos field northwest of Signal Hill, came in a gusher over 1000 feet, which is a high depth of 2300 feet, and shows a high pressure, which indicates that the well probably will hold up to its initial output. It is located near Cedar Avenue and Bixby Road.

Associated Output Up
Associated Oil Company, subsidiary of The Wilshire Oil Company, reports a grand total production with affiliated companies for August of 1,246,144 barrels of oil, an increase of 6007 over July. Production of the Associated company alone was 1,244,610 barrels, an increase of 5944 barrels over July.

International Commission in Second Meeting

Mexico Represented by Agent at San Diego Port

American Members to Conduct Hearing for Public

With the arrival from Alaska yesterday morning of Henry O'Malley, director of the United States Bureau of Fisheries, the international Fisheries Commission met in its second session since creation by American-Mexican treaty last summer.

The meeting, which was held at the commission's new offices in the Conner Building, San Diego, was attended by both O'Malley and N. R. Scott, head of commercial fisheries for the California Fish and Game Commission, as the American commissioners, and J. E. Leon, in charge of the Mexican fisheries office at San Diego, as Mexico's representative. Mexico's newly appointed commissioner, Wanda Soberson and P. N. Frago, were unable to reach here from Mexico City.

TAX CUT SEEN
Reduction of the Mexican tax, Mr. O'Malley believed, now must come from their national legislature, whereas as the American tax may be set by the President under certain conditions. He expressed belief both nations might consent to taxes of 814 if information is supplied them of such desirability.

SURVEY PLANNED
In furtherance of those studies the new 100-foot government boat Brant, which O'Malley ordered built, will be brought here in November and outfitted for a six-month study of international fisheries.

HERE IT IS

These are "cashing-in" days in the mining industry. Scores of properties that have been under development for months or years are just coming into their own. In most instances, the public does not hear of these materializations until the price of the stock has risen to unreasonable heights.

I want to tell you about one property just going on production that may produce results beyond the most sanguine expectations. These results, in the form of dividends, should speak for themselves, and if you take time to check up on this house, do not talk dividends unless we know pretty positively that they are coming.

The property I am sponsoring today I anticipate will be one of the biggest mining successes that Los Angeles has known in years. If you wish to join, all that is necessary is to drop in and see me personally. If you have made money through your investments with us before, I know you will come in. If you have not been our client in the past, this is the best opportunity, I believe, you will ever have.

If you cannot come to my office, I would suggest that you sign the attached coupon, and don't be afraid to stick on a special delivery stamp.

ORMISTON WILL STAY IN HIDING

Radio Man Announces That He Won't Surrender

Again Says Mrs. McPherson Not at Carmel House

Mystery Stranger Visits at Angelus Temple

posed by the fact that, immediately after I began negotiations with his friends in Los Angeles and San Francisco to surrender him on condition that he tell the truth and nothing but the truth in exchange for immunity, his present attorney telephoned from Chicago to Mr. Keyes asking for immunity. Mr. Keyes replied that no immunity would be granted Ormiston because he [Keyes] had the evidence. "The further fact of his position is obvious, and that it is true Ormiston wants immunity is shown by the fact that he is in hiding and evading the authorities seeking him on felony complaint."

"If he is innocent of the conspiracy to defraud justice why doesn't he come back like a man and stand trial?"

MYSTERY STRANGER
A mysterious stranger, who unidentified reports stated was a postal inspector, visited Angelus Temple yesterday afternoon and remained in conference with Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Kennedy for some time. A few minutes after he left Roland Bush Woolley, personal attorney for the evangelist and his mother, entered the home. The stranger retraced his steps and again entered the house where he remained for a longer period.

Neither the man nor any of the principals in the case would disclose his identity.

The reported postal inspector is believed to be concerned in the case through the government's interest in the kidnapping and threat letters which were sent through the post. The inspector was leaving the house when Attorney Roland Bush Woolley entered. Soon after the government man retraced his steps and re-entered the McPherson home.

The inspector left sometime later. Sometime after his departure Attorney W. I. Gilbert, who will defend Mrs. McPherson, arrived and joined the conference.

Mrs. Elizabeth Frame, who acted as go-between between Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman, on one occasion, sending the Carmel import or $50 for Mrs. Kennedy, called twice at the McPherson home yesterday.

Mrs. Kennedy left the house on two occasions during the forenoon. She said both departures were on personal errands.

A continuous procession of automobiles, from drivers to innocents, passed the house yesterday, their occupants peering out curiously.

McLOSH INTERVIEWED
Dist. Atty. Keyes spent several hours in conference with Chief Deputy Davis and Deputies Murray and Dennison. While he stated the conference was only for the purpose of reviewing the evidence now in hand, it was understood that plans were laid to obtain further evidence from new witnesses in the case.

Following the conference, at which many volumes of testimony in transcript form were examined, Keyes and Davis talked to A. A. McLoch, father of Harry McLoch, said to be sought to explain if he was known as "John Doe" Martin, mentioned in the complaints against the evangelist and his mother.

Keyes refused to divulge the whole of the information given him by McLoch, but it was learned the latter made a statement in affidavit form to the effect that his son had admitted he had been promised money if he could produce "kidnapers."

TWO MEET UNION GAS CUT

California Petroleum and Julian Reduced to 17 1/2c, Several Await Action by Standard Oil

Two large oil companies yesterday announced they will meet the Union Oil Company's reduction of 3 cents a gallon in the price of gasoline. At the same time the Standard Oil Company declared there will be no announcement forthcoming from its office until today regarding a change in gasoline prices.

Executives of other large companies may have announcements later as the General Petroleum Corporation of California and the Gilmore Oil Company. Executives of the Pan-American Petroleum Company, the Shell Company of California, the Richmond Oil Company and the Associated Oil Company declared there has been no change in their gasoline prices.

Heads of the Wilshire Oil Company and the Rio Grande Oil Company, included in a group known as independents, said they are waiting to ascertain whether the Standard Oil Company announces a reduction in the price of Red Crown gasoline.

The two concerns which met the Union Oil Company's reduction of 3 cents a gallon, effective at filling stations yesterday morning, are the California Petroleum Company of California and the Julian Petroleum Corporation.

Persons who promised the money, he believed, were agents for Angelus Temple.

The senior McLoch also is asserted to have taken investigators to his home where he produced letters from his son bearing a San Francisco date and a hearing of the story of the District Attorney's office. The date and the contents of the letters were not divulged, but they are expected to have a bearing on the case.

Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman Stiefel, who recently admitted she talked to a man from San Francisco and through him made arrangements to support the story she told later of being the sister of Mrs. X, who spent some time in a Carmel bungalow during the time Mrs. McPherson was missing.

ORMISTON HUNT
Keyes and Davis then left the office on a "mystery trip," remaining away for several hours. They refused to divulge the nature of their expedition, but said it concerned another case.

While the whereabouts of Kenneth G. Ormiston, much-sought radio orator at the Temple, still remains unknown to authorities, the net thrown by Dist. Atty. Keyes immediately following the issuance of complaints against Mrs. McPherson, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Wiseman, Ormiston and three unnamed persons, has been strengthened until it is believed the man will be apprehended within a short while. Rumors yesterday that he intended to walk into the office and surrender were scoffed at by Keyes, who reiterated his decision to give no immunity to Ormiston.

S. S. Hahn, attorney for Mrs. Wiseman and for friends of Ormiston, who recently stated he would produce the radio man on condition he might receive immunity, yesterday issued another statement. It followed:

"Kenneth Ormiston has now retained a very able attorney. This attorney informed Dist. Atty. Keyes personally that he will produce Ormiston, but Mr. Keyes informed him, just as he informed Ormiston's friends with whom I was negotiating, that he never has and does not now offer immunity for Ormiston."

From now on it is difficult to say what Ormiston will do. I take this occasion to state that Mr. Keyes is the greatest advocate of fair play in California.

"Mrs. McPherson is not justified in her attacks on my motives in this case. I feel that in presenting to the District Attorney the evidence against her and her confederates, I did so in the interests of public justice."

VICTIM OF GRIM MURDER ENIGMA

Woman Killed in Home, and Jewels Missing

Man and Wife Die in Rain of Shot Fired Through Door

Neighbor Confesses Crime, Police Declare

Two women and one man were slain in mystery murders here yesterday.

Mrs. Maude Harmon, 38 years of age, wife of James O. Harmon, a cattle buyer residing at 6429 Third avenue, was strangled and beaten to death by two young men, one of whom posed as a realty operator and the other as a prospective buyer.

After they had gained entrance to the Harmon home on that pretext, police believe robbery may have been the motive as jewelry and effects valued at $3000 were reported missing after the crime.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Ranes were shot and killed by a man who fired two shots through the screen door of their home at 807 South Ford boulevard, Belvedere Gardens.

Mr. Ranes was an official of the Belvedere Chamber of Commerce and general sales manager of the Belvedere Land and Water Company. According to Sheriff Treasurer, the company's last night offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of the slayer.

Ranes and his wife apparently were alone in the house when the shooting occurred. Their bodies were found just inside the front door. Ranes, shot through the heart, died almost instantly. His wife, shot through the head, was still breathing when the receiving hospital was reached, and died soon afterward.

Shortly after the shooting, deputies working under Capt. William Bright and Deputy Sheriff Hackett of the county homicide squad, arrested John Sprain, who confessed to the crime, according to Capt. Bright.

Sprain was taken into custody at his home at 968 South Ford boulevard, which is just across the street from the Ranes home. The shooting climaxed a series of quarrels between the two families, according to Sprain's story to the officers. He stated he had considerable trouble with Ranes and on several occasions they had taken their disputes to court. Ranes, he said, was seeking to oust him from the neighborhood.

Sprain admitted, according to the officers, that he was arrested some time ago on a charge of bootlegging. He was taken to the County Jail, where he has a wife and two small children.

Ranes was about 50 years of age and his wife 32. Neighbors said they had lived in the neighborhood for about two years. Officers found letters addressed to them from Mrs. Floyd M. Robinson, 307 Winchester place, North Hollywood, Calif., and Mrs. J. A. Kepler, 215 East 42nd street, Bartlett, O., both of whom are believed to be relatives.

When police arrived to investigate the slaying of Mrs. Harmon they learned that the woman apparently had been seized by the throat to prevent her making an outcry and dealt two terrible blows on the back of the head with a sharp instrument, crushing her skull, according to police who investigated.

The lifeless body of the woman was discovered by Nellie Edwards, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Edwards, neighbors residing at 1420 Third street.

The girl entered the Harmon home about 4 p.m., a short time after the two unidentified men were seen by the girl's mother to have entered the place, and found the body lying on the front room floor. The house was in darkness. Noting her mother, the latter called police.

According to Mrs. Edwards, the two men have visited the Harmon home on several occasions the last week. Mrs. Harmon had gone on a shopping tour with Mrs. Edwards yesterday, the couple returning to their homes shortly after 1 o'clock. Soon after their arrival, the two strangers called.

On previous visits, the two men accused the Missions of both women, according to Mrs. Edwards, who stated she went to the Harmon home as the saw a man in a trench coat after some conversation regarding the purchase of the property the two men left, stating they would return in half an hour.

Shortly before 4 o'clock they returned. They were admitted by Mrs. Harmon, according to Mrs. Edwards, who stated she was unable to go to the Harmon home at the time. A short time later she told her daughter to run over and take her music lesson, resulting in the discovery of the body.

Investigation of the premises revealed the living-room and Mrs. Harmon's bedroom had been ransacked before the men fled. Three diamond rings and a small butterfly pin which Mrs. Harmon was wearing while on her shopping tour were missing. The woman's jewelry case had been looted.

Possibility of the jewelry, which was valued at approximately $5000, having been secured by the woman before the men entered the house was expressed by Mrs. Edwards, who stated the dead woman was stupefied.

Police were furnished with only a meager description of the two suspects. A 1937 Buick sedan, found in the bedroom is practically the only other clue investigators have upon which to work. The investigation is being conducted by Acting Chief of Detectives Taylor and Detectives William McCarron and Lyons of the Seventy-seventh-street station.

It was issued in 1906 and until his breakdown Mr. Andrews was on the job as managing editor every day.

Mr. Andrews was an Episcopalian, being a member of St. Paul's Cathedral congregation. He was a Mason, a member of Westlake Lodge, F. and A. M. of Golden West Commandery Knights Templar and Al Malak Temple of the Shrine. He was also a member of the Shrine of the Blue Lodge.

Although unable to be at his post at the office since 1921 Mr. Andrews retained his keenness of intellect and continued to keep in touch with newspaper activities, particularly those of the Times, up to the day of his death. For the past five years, since his retirement from active work, the post of editorial executive of the Times has been filled by Ralph W. Trueblood.

DOWN TO THE SEA
There is something quite significant in the departure of Mr. Zane Grey, the novelist, for a long sea trip.

He has unquestionably shut up shop as a writer of wild West stories, and he was the most successful of all western writers. The public is satiated with shoot-'em-from-the-hip stories. And cowboys with hairy pants and bucking horses.

With his fingers on the public pulse Mr. Grey perceives that a great revival of interest in the sea is about to take place in America. You can see signs of it on every hand. We are about to take up our heritages as a seagoing people.

There is no more glorious chapter of American history than the days of the clipper ships and the East Indians; and some of the old New England warehouses still small faintly of spice—the aroma of forgotten triumph.

VALIDITY OF URSURY LAW CONSIDERED

State Supreme Court Opens for Fall Session With Important Calendar

With the validity of the State usury law on the calendar for hearing, as well as all countless technical decisions to be rendered in other cases, the fall session of the State Supreme Court opened yesterday. The usury law case is an appeal taken by W.
Washer from his conviction recently in municipal court on a charge of having collected more than 12 per cent on a loan to Jacob Tabak.
Interest in the case is unusually keen among local attorneys, many of whom appeared before the court yesterday and obtained permission to file briefs. City Prosecutor Friedlander and Washer's attorney also obtained thirty days in which to prepare additional briefs concerning the law and its application.
The court also took under consideration the appeal by Mrs. Laura E.
Yoder to have set aside the Superior Court's order of adoption giving the custody of Mrs. Yoder's children, Dorothy and Wilma, to her brother-in-law, Dr. Earl H. Yoder. Mrs. Yoder's husband lost his life in the World War.
The court will consider, today the suit of Peter R. C. Cade, contractor, against the City Council in connection with the West Adams-street storm drain construction.

design the club buildings. The site includes a 350-acre tract near White Point, the announcement said. The organization is known as the St. Andrew Golf and Country Club. It will front on a pleasure harbor and boating will be one of its main attractions.
The present plans include a main clubhouse, a golf course, yacht harbor, yacht club, breakwater, swimming pools, with suitable thoroughfares and landscaping on the club premises.
Yesterday's announcement signified that Brook & Hall have been engaged as landscape engineers and will supervise the construction of the breakwater. Soundings in the prospective pleasure harbor are to be taken under the supervision of Merritt, Chapman & Scott. It is declared that the yacht harbor will cost approximately $350,000.
Work has been started on the golf course, according to the report. It added that contract would be let to build the breakwater within a few days.

BULLOCK'S

New Collegienne Evening Frocks Show Boleros and "Paillettes"

Bullock's Two-to-Six Shop Presents Fashions for Fall

"NEW fashions for fall and winter 1926-27" . . . Doesn't that sound important? It's more than important . . . it's fascinating news for mothers of little daughters 2 to 6, or tiny sons, 1 to 4. Especially delightful is the way children have adopted "grown-up" fashions. For instance, the bolero (sketched below at the right). This has been modified so skillfully by children's fashion experts that childish simplicity is retained . . . with smartness.

Then the greater use of fur on coats. Tiny coats in big plaids have fur collars. And many of the "dress-up" models have hats to match.

Bullock's has imported those little knitted suits that fashionable small boys wear so much on the Continent. And two-color wool dresses for little girls are decidedly French. (See them today.)

These are just a few of the fashion notes that make the "Two-to-Six Shop" one of Bullock's most interesting specializations. Here fashion comes first, but with it quality, appropriateness, reasonableness in price.

Truhu Silk Exploitation Continues Until Saturday at Bullock's

Did you know that the famous Truhu Silks—washable silks—are carried nowhere else but at Bullock's in Los Angeles? As lustrous as other silks, as perfect in weave and finish. Their proven washable feature is invisible. It takes nothing from the appeal of the fabrics, or their quality. It simply distinguishes Truhu from other superior silks of similar weaves.

Talks on Truhu With Living Models Daily at 11 A.M. and 3 P.M.

A silk expert, a representative of Truhu Silks, will be present to tell you of the advantages of these wonderful fabrics. She brings with her a fascinating collection of garments fashioned of Truhu.
From these may be gleaned much inspiration for the Autumn wardrobe.

"If It's Truhu It's Washable"

All Truhu colored fabrics are fast to washing and fast to repeated washings.
Bullock's assortments of them show the tints and shades most fashionable this season. Silks for afternoon, street, sport, and dinner frocks and for lingerie.

SONG OF REMEMBRANCE
Come, sing to my heart, soft
of the forest.
Sing, and my spirit shall me no more;
Bright are the stars in the
of the heavens.
Tuneless the waters that beat the shore;
Yet I am grieving for days that have vanished.
For the loved voices that knew my own.
The smoke of the campfire rises high at even.
The scent of the grasses smell of pine cone.
Come, sing to my heart, soft
of the forest.
Sing the refrain that I loved so well.
Of the wild flowers that grew in the hollows.
Tender of hue as the throat
of a shell;
Red toyon berries that brighten the hillside
Above the swift river that flows to the west.
Grant me my prayer as the day declines.
For in your music alone is rest.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

Helps for Spices and All Who Appreciate Good Cooking

CORN PUDDING
Put lengthwise the grains in eight large ears of corn, scrape out the pulp carefully, saving all milk that runs. The corn should be full, but not the least hard—if it has reached the dough state, the grains will keep shape. Beat three eggs very light, with half a teaspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of sugar, plenty of black pepper and paprika, half a cupful of very soft butter, and a half-cupful of sweet cream. Add the corn pulp and milk, stir well together. Pour into a pudding dish, cover and bake ten minutes, then uncover and bake until done.

CANDIED SWEET POTATOES
Boil medium potatoes of even size, till a fork will pierce—steaming is better, though a bit more troublesome in cold water for a minute, peel, brush over with soft butter, then lay separately in a wide skillet with an inch of very rich syrup over the bottom and set over a slow fire. Turn the potatoes often in the syrup, letting it coat on all sides. Keep turning them until candied and a little brown. If wanted very rich, put butter and lemon juice in the syrup when making it. Slice mace also favors it very well.

VEGETABLE SOUP
Cut into joints two fat chickens three-parts grown, salt and pepper and lay aside while you fry in a deep pot half a pound of streaky bacon. Take out when crisp, put in the chicken, turning it so as to brown it all over. Put in a thick slice of ham, let it also brown a bit, do the same with four sliced onions, mild ones, then add two gallons of cold water, half a teaspoonful of salt, two pods of red peppers, a dozen whole pepper corns, and two sprigs of parsley. Keep at a gentle boil for an hour, then put in two small heads of tender cabbage finely shredded, and six white potatoes peeled and sliced a quarter-inch thick. Fifteen minutes later put in a quart of string beans, broken short, and a stalk of celery cut fine lengthwise, and a dozen tomatoes, peeled and sliced. Follow them in ten minutes with a pint of tender okra sliced—next add a little green corn, salt lengthwise and scraped. Stir almost constantly, and with a long-handled skimmer, after the corn pulp is in. If the skimmer brings up chicken bones, throw them aside. Just before serving put in a large spoon of butter, rolled in flour. Taste, add salt if required.

ORANGE CAKE
Cream a cupful of butter with two cupfuls of sugar, beat into it a cup of cold water, then add four cupfuls of flour, three sifted with two spoonfuls of baking powder, alternate the flour with three well beaten eggs. Flavor to taste, bake in layers, and put together with orange frosting. Bake in a shallow pan, and grate the strained juice, and grate yellow peel of a large sweet orange in the water, the exact amount of water cannot be given, so only add enough to make the pastry hold together. Use the same as ordinary pie pastry.

WHOLE-WHEAT PIE CRUST
Mix two cupfuls of 100 per cent whole-wheat flour with half a cup of cold water, then add four cupfuls of flour, three sifted with two spoonfuls of baking powder, alternate the flour with three well beaten eggs. Flavor to taste, bake in layers, and put together with orange frosting. Bake in a shallow pan, and grate the strained juice, and grate yellow peel of a large sweet orange in the water, the exact amount of water cannot be given, so only add enough to make the pastry hold together. Use the same as ordinary pie pastry.

FROZEN CRANBERRY SAUCE
Cook a quart of cranberries until very soft in one pint water, strain through coarse sieve, getting all the pulp, add to it one and a half pints of sugar, the exact amount of water cannot be given, so only add enough to make the pastry hold together. Use the same as ordinary pie pastry.

FRUIT SALAD
Wash well a very fine juicy pineapple, slice it with a fork, holding the crown in the left hand firmly, while you pull away sections with the fork in the right. Thus you avoid taking any of the hard center. Peel the sections delicately after they are separated, and cut them into thin slices, with the grain. Arrange these slices star shape upon lettuce leaves in the plates, lay a very narrow strip of pimento—sweet red pepper—between each two of them, then fill in the points of the stars with grapefruit pulp, freed of skin and seed, and broken into convenient-sized bits.

BORROWING SUITOR HELD IN SWINDLE

Married Man Convicted of Defrauding Woman of Funds on Marriage Promise

James L. Stafford was convicted on an embezzlement charge in Judge Hahn's court yesterday. After borrowing $600 in securities from Mrs. Amelia A. Meagher of Santa Ana and promising to marry her, he departed for New York, where he had a wife and family, it was charged.

According to Miss Meagher's complaint, Stafford told her his father was a member of Parliament and his mother owned a $100,000 estate in England. He obtained the securities, it was said, to establish credit for a trade paper, the Bric-a-Brac Monthly, which he planned to publish at Santa Ana.

BUSINESS GIRLS JOIN NEW Y.W.C.A. CLASS

More than 500 business girls of the city answered the first call of the Young Women's Christian Association for enrollment in the swimming, gymnastic and dancing classes which opened yesterday for the fall term. The remaining 100 girls will be initiated Thursday at the second class meeting.

Unannounced last night, fifty nurses from the General Hospital stormed the Y.W.C.A. swimming pool at 841 South Figueroa, and celebrated with a "splash" party, following election of an editor for the hospital annual, which had taken place earlier in the evening at the nurses' home at the hospital.

The clubhouse was equipped on a scale looking to a much larger membership than the present list, the rapid growth of the Masonic fraternity in Southern California being in mind, and a campaign for larger membership is now under way. It is desired that 1000 members shall be added to the roll by October 1, next, the plan being to secure 500 of these in Los Angeles. To those whose affairs entail frequent visits to this city the club offers many attractions, and the belief is that the outside quota will be rapidly gathered.

Quarter Million Estate Left by Mrs. H. Strong

Mrs. Harriet Williams Russell Strong, prominent club woman and one of the founders of the Ebell Club, left an estate valued at approximately $250,000, it was revealed yesterday with the filing of a petition for letters of special administration of the estate.

Mrs. Strong died the 18th inst., as the result of injuries she received in an automobile accident near Whittier. The petition for letters was filed by Harriet H. Strong, eldest daughter and one of the principal heirs of the decedent.

Married Man Convicted of Defrauding Woman of Funds on Marriage Promise

James L. Stafford was convicted on an embezzlement charge in Judge Hahn's court yesterday. After borrowing $600 in securities from Mrs. Amelia A. Meagher of Santa Ana and promising to marry her, he departed for New York, where he had a wife and family, it was charged.

According to Miss Meagher's complaint, Stafford told her his father was a member of Parliament and his mother owned a $100,000 estate in England. He obtained the securities, it was said, to establish credit for a trade paper, the Bric-a-Brac Monthly, which he planned to publish at Santa Ana.

BUSINESS GIRLS JOIN NEW Y.W.C.A. CLASS

More than 500 business girls of the city answered the first call of the Young Women's Christian Association for enrollment in the swimming, gymnastic and dancing classes which opened yesterday for the fall term. The remaining 100 girls will be initiated Thursday at the second class meeting.

Unannounced last night, fifty nurses from the General Hospital stormed the Y.W.C.A. swimming pool at 841 South Figueroa, and celebrated with a "splash" party, following election of an editor for the hospital annual, which had taken place earlier in the evening at the nurses' home at the hospital.

The clubhouse was equipped on a scale looking to a much larger membership than the present list, the rapid growth of the Masonic fraternity in Southern California being in mind, and a campaign for larger membership is now under way. It is desired that 1000 members shall be added to the roll by October 1, next, the plan being to secure 500 of these in Los Angeles. To those whose affairs entail frequent visits to this city the club offers many attractions, and the belief is that the outside quota will be rapidly gathered.

WIDENING PLAN GETS NEW START

Ordinance for Tenth-street Work Adopted

City Council Unanimously Puts Measure Over

Improvement Will Provide 100-Foot Artery

The Tenth-street opening and widening project, which was the first of the great major traffic street improvements put under way by the City Council, but which has been delayed by litigation, was advanced yesterday when the ordinance of intention for the improvement was adopted by unanimous vote of the City Council.

The motion to adopt the ordinance was made by Councilman Shaw and was seconded by Councilman Barnes. This is the second ordinance of intention for the improvement that has been adopted, as all of the first proceedings were nullified by court decisions sustaining technical objections to the proceedings.

The improvement provides for the opening and widening of Tenth street as a 100-foot traffic artery for a distance of nine miles from the eastern to the western city boundaries. The city will contribute $1,500,000 toward the cost of the improvement because of the general benefit to be derived from it. The map of the large district to be assessed for the improvement has been adopted by the City Council, and all the engineering plans completed.

CRASHES KILL ONE, HURT SIX

One man was killed and six persons were injured in traffic accidents yesterday. The dead man is Carlos Cifuentes, 38 years of age, of 8414 Chelsea avenue, who was hurled against the curb and killed almost instantly when he was struck by a truck at Blumson avenue near Cinnamon street. The driver of the truck, Maynard H. Moore, of 11110 Peck street, was held at the Seventy-seventh street station on suspicion of manslaughter.

Alexander Bell of 1247 1-3 North Alexandria street, suffered a skull fracture when his automobile collided with an outboard Echo Park street car at Bunker Hill street and Sunset Boulevard.

Four persons were injured in a crash between two street cars and a five-ton truck on Main street near Winston street. The truck driver, A. Lawrence, escaped possible death by deliberately diving from the seat of his machine through a window of one of the two cars. He suffered several minor cuts about the face and head.

Frank Neville, who lives at the Greater Los Angeles Hotel, and both Jenkins of 1200 East Twenty-first street, and Mrs. Josephine Clavens of 4048 Rhineland street, also received cuts and abrasions. The truck was pinned between a Los Angeles Street Railway car and a two-car Pacific Electric train and ground to wreckage. Lawrence and the injured car passenger were treated at Receiving Hospital. A Robinson, a driver for the Mitchell Dairy Company, suffered a probably serious head injury when his truck was struck at Forty-eighth street and Long Beach Boulevard by a Pacific Electric train, bound for Long Beach. Robinson was taken to the Golden State Hospital. The motor man of the train, A. G. Hetsell, asserted he gave the customary signal at the crossing and that the wig was working.

Doctors to be Guardians at School Games

That physicians shall attend all competitive games was the text of a resolution passed by the Board of Education last night upon the recommendation of Dr. Sven Lokrantz, director of physical and corrective education, and also of Mrs. Susan M. Dorey, superintendent of schools.

It is believed that the attendance of physicians will benefit boys through observation of the results of strain. Many boys exert themselves beyond the point of their physical endurance, Dr. Lokrantz declares, and it is with the thought of guarding students as well as assisting in cases of injury that the Board of Education decided to employ physicians for two afternoons each week for the next three months. If the experiment proves the need of this additional medical supervision such attendance will be made permanent.

BANDIT BEATS VICTIM IN RADIO SHOP HOLD-UP

Two hold-ups were reported to the police last night. Art Bertrand, 30 years of age, proprietor of a radio shop at 1169 1/2 Cypress avenue, was struck over the head by a bandit, who took $10 from the cash register. Police Surgeon Dorn treated Bertrand for a bad scalp wound at the Receiving Hospital. A bandit took $200 from J. W. Wightman, proprietor of a drug store at Van Ness and Melrose avenues, at the point of a revolver.

HAVE YOU A LITTLE EVA?

Universal Making Wide Spread Search; Louise Dresser in Big Role; Rin-Tin-Tin Bites Actor

By Grace Kingsley

Have you a little Eva in your home? A girl child of ineffable sweetness, who has never pulled the cat's tail, and who is warranted to make the hard-boiled jockeyman on the square give up the juicy chunk of ice to the kids to play with?

Has she long blond curls and great blue eyes, and does she look anywhere from seven to ten years old?

If so, trot her out to Universal City and give her a chance to play the greatest role ever written for a child actress, that of Little Eva in "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Up to six weeks ago Universal City went about in the blissful assurance that the world was plumb full of Little Evas who could get just anything out of the old Mars Sheldon. Then they tried to find one.

It is all on account of their hitherto fruitless search for a child to play the part in Harry Pollard's picture of the old and famous novel that the sweet spirit of optimism on this subject prevailing up to this time among the good folk at Universal City has been temporarily soured.

So now Universal is putting it up to the public to furnish them with a Little Eva. During the past several weeks every little blond girl in pictures has been interviewed, but most of them had cheeks that were too chubby, or had lost front teeth, or were a thought too dark for the role.

If you have ambitions for your child in pictures, bring your little girl, providing she fulfills the above description, to Universal City tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, where she will meet Paul Koehner, casting director, and Harry Pollard, director of the picture. No child unaccompanied by parent, guardian or older friend will be admitted to the offices.

Work on the Little Eva scenes will be commenced on Friday morning. It is likely that a professionally inexperienced child will be chosen, although screen or stage experience will by no means be a bar to a contract.

Louise Dresser in it

Louise Dresser has signed for one of the most important roles of her career, the leading part in Warner Brothers' picture, "The Third Degree," from Charles Klein's play of the same name.

Helene Ware created the role on the stage when the play was first produced in New York.

The actress is to wear tight-fitting clothes in the picture, which led us yesterday to chattering about the first time she ever wore tight clothes on the stage—which was also the first and the last time, although she was in the picture.

It was her first experience in the theater when Miss Dresser, at the age of 19, signed for the chorus in a musical comedy at the Howard Athenaeum in pink tights, and she did it though all the traditions of her early training were against it. But only for ten days. At the end of the run, Mami Girey, leading woman, fell ill, and Hal Grieve, hard-boiled stage manager, shouted to the chorus asking whether any of them knew Mami's part. Miss Dresser answered right up that she did. She went on with one day's rehearsal, and retained the role all season.

Marion Nixon White Fox

Cahuenga Pass is to know Marion Nixon's sporty little roadster no more for several weeks to come. Miss Nixon, who is under contract to Universal, and who has worked in several pictures there, has been loaned by that organization to Fox to play the leading feminine role in "The Auctioneer," it became known yesterday.

Miss Nixon has gone rapidly forward during the past few months, appearing in a number of features, including Universal and Arthur B. Productions.

Rep-Your-Pardon Note

I owe an apology to D. W. C. Rith, Paramount, Bartley Campbell and Jay Hunt and, it being such a formidable array, I feel that the sooner I utter it the better, especially as Mr. Hunt sets me right in gentle terms.

Mr. Griffith's next picture is to be "The White Slave," you may recollect. However, the theme is not of white slavery, but of a slave girl of old negro-slavery days in this country who had white blood in her veins. The play of which I wrote was one called "White Slavery" and had to do with the procurement of white girls.

Mr. Hunt courteously reminds me that he was in the original cast of "The White Slave," first produced under Campbell's direction at the Fourteenth-street Theater in New York in May, 1931.

Helene Chadwick signs

That charming young actress, Helene Chadwick, has signed to play the leading featured role in two pictures to be produced by Columbia Pictures Corporation. The first is to be a comedy-drama and Phil Rosen will direct.

Miss Chadwick formerly made herself famous in comedy-drama with the old Goldwyn organization, during which time she achieved a noteworthy success.

Of late she has been appearing in pictures with Warner Brothers and other companies.

Luncheon for Elsie Janis

June Mathis and Winona Winter, being old friends of Elsie Janis, are proving to that bright young Orpheum star that they remember the lark by tendering Miss Janis a luncheon.

at the Montmartre on Thursday, at which a number of picture and stage stars will be present.

Although she is now a noted picture producer and writer, time was when she was on the stage, and it was during her musical-comedy days that she called Elsie Janis chum.

Dog Actor Bites Player

Rin-Tin-Tin wasn't supposed to really bite the actor he was wrestling with, but how was a dog to know that? The result was that last Thursday the Warner canine star made it all too realistic when scrapping with George Kotsenaros by biting that player on the head, hand and shoulder.

Kotsenaros finally managed to free himself from the dog's grip on his shoulder, but not until after the camera had registered the scene in "When London Sleeps."

And the actor still has a scene coming in which the animal is supposed to kill him, but Kotsenaros feels that realism has gone quite far enough and that he has sacrificed himself enough on the altar of art, so he will strive to keep the tragic end of the story from coming true.

Ken Maynard Travels

Life seems to be just one long, sweet travelogue to Ken Maynard and his director, Albert Rogell. Having just recently returned from Deadwood, D. they will leave today for Idyllwild, at which lovely Southern California resort they will spend a week filming exterior scenes and finishing the third of the Charles R. Rogers production starring Maynard at present entitled "Flame of the Border."

Whereas only Maynard, Rogell, his staff and a few minor actors made the long trip to Deadwood, where the color and atmosphere were provided by thousands of Indians from Pine Ridge Reservation, cavalry from Fort Meade and Deadwood residents, the picture now boasts a large and brilliant cast, including Kathleen Collins, Tom Santachi, Sheldon Lewis, Dot Farley, Florence Turner, Jay Hunt, William Malkin, Paul Hurst and Fred Burns.

Grey Story for Mix

Announcement is made by Sol Wurtzel, Fox official, that "The Last Trail," a popular novel by Zane Grey, had been purchased for the western star, and that John Stone was writing the adaptation and continuity.

John Stone has been with the Fox organization for five years, four of which have been spent in writing original stories and continuities.

Crumplin Another Army Officer

They won't let Hugh Crumplin, clever English screen actor, get out of the army. Even though he possesses historic ability of no less character, a military man seems to be his fate in the films. Probably having been a captain in the Royal Field Artillery of the British Army accounts for this fact.

Once again Crumplin has been cast as a military personality.

This time he enacts the role of a British officer in "The Temptress," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production in which Greta Garbo and Antonio Moreno are being co-starred with Fred Niblo directing.

Max Reinhardt Opened Theatre to "Jazz King"

Few actors and actresses, still fewer symphony orchestras, and only one jazz band have had the honor of playing in Max Reinhardt's Grossschmied Haus in Germany.

The one jazz band was Paul Whiteman's, the same organization now playing at the Million Dollar Theater.

When the jazz monarch and his orchestra played at that theater, they were attended by seventy electricians, supervised by Max Reinhardt himself. Exaggerated as the statement may seem it is self explanatory when it is known that Reinhardt's house does not use any scenery, but all effects are obtained by throwing a myriad of lights on a snow white wall, used as a back drop.

The "Rhapsodie in Blue," an American composition by George Gershwin, when played by the band with the marvelous effects, brought up ending praise from the audience, and from Fritz Kreisler the violinist, who occupied a box at every performance. Whiteman and his band are at the Million Dollar this week in conjunction with Thomas Meighan's starring vehicle, "Tin Gods."

GOTHAM SEES COLLEEN
New York will obtain its first glimpse of Colleen Moore in person in more than a year when she arrives there this week to film the exterior scenes of her next First National starring picture, "Orchids and Ermine." She recently completed "Tinkles Toes" at the First National studio in Burbank.

FIRST TIME AT "U"
Dorothy Devore is making her debut at the "Universal" studio in "The Wrong Man," in which she is being featured with a strong cast. Although she has been in motion pictures several years, Miss Devore has never before worked inside the Universal gates.

With a baritone like Oscar Taylor in their midst, Fanchon and Marco are not taking any chances of losing him.

Yesterday they announced that they had placed him under a long-term contract and that henceforth he will appear as a featured member of Rubie Wolf's orchestra.

"Taylor, who is an expert saxophonist, has a three-fold claim to fame."

"He has sung the Engano-speaking world and is generally known as 'musical comedy's favorite baritone.' In addition he is an accomplished musician and is destined to become a real matinee idol."

Although Taylor is a California boy, he achieved most of his fame in New York. He studied for grand opera there and in Chicago and Italy.

One of the two "Must Be Love" at Low's is the old delicatessees keeper played by Jean Hersholt.

The other is Arthur Stone, who portrays the gar-lingling sausage manufacturer.

Hersholt's performance is one of the most human he has ever given. And one of his best.

He prides himself in the fact that he never appeared in similar characterizations.

Dallas, "Green" and "The Old Book" disclose him in roles not even remotely resembling one another.

How long such versatility can last is problematical, but the process will be interesting to observe.

INTERMISSION!

Artists Coming to Coast—A Good Bad Man That Delicatessen Keeper

by HERBERT MOULTON

GEORGE ARLISS will visit Los Angeles some time this winter as the star of John Galsworthy's "Old English," according to advices from New York yesterday.

The veteran actor returned to this country last week after a sojourn at his country home, St. Margarets-at-Cliffe, in Kent, Eng. He is scheduled to open at Milwaukee Monday night in the Galsworthy play.

From the box-office standpoint, "Old English" is said to be the most successful play in which Arliss has appeared and, incidentally, the most profitable drama Galsworthy has written.

It discloses Arliss in the guise of an 80-year-old sinner, one Sylvanus Meythorp—a role vastly different from anything he has ever essayed.

The production is being staged by Winthrop Ames, who made such a notable success of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Iolanthe."

Arliss will head the troupe on a transcontinental tour which will bring "Old English" to the major cities of the country. In the east are many of the same players who appeared during the New York run of 200 performances.

Irby Marshall, the Australian actress, continues as Arliss's leading woman—a position she has occupied since the play's first American presentation.

We have almost lost sight of Tom Santachi during the last few years, but his appearance in "Three Men" at the Carthay brings him back into the cinema limelight with a bang.

His performance in the John Ford picture is outstanding and a well-nigh flawless in its technique. Although he plays one of the trio of "bad" men, he'll win more of your sympathy than they.

With a baritone like Oscar Taylor in their midst, Fanchon and Marco are not taking any chances of losing him.

Yesterday they announced that they had placed him under a long-term contract and that henceforth he will appear as a featured member of Rubie Wolf's orchestra.

"Taylor, who is an expert saxophonist, has a three-fold claim to fame."

"He has sung the Engano-speaking world and is generally known as 'musical comedy's favorite baritone.' In addition he is an accomplished musician and is destined to become a real matinee idol."

Although Taylor is a California boy, he achieved most of his fame in New York. He studied for grand opera there and in Chicago and Italy.

One of the two "Must Be Love" at Low's is the old delicatessees keeper played by Jean Hersholt.

The other is Arthur Stone, who portrays the gar-lingling sausage manufacturer.

Hersholt's performance is one of the most human he has ever given. And one of his best.

VANISHING BALLET AMAZING AFFAIR

Bathing Beauties Splash Gayly
as Headliners on Pantages Bill

Of course, beach bathing beauties are a bit out of season anyway.

But why go to the seashore, when authentic swimmers are deporting themselves on the stage at Pantages this week?

Replenished and ready to perform the extraordinary act bearing the alluring title of "Where Do They Go?" And these girls are not in the least afraid of water. They splash it all over the stage, even threatening to deluge the orchestra.

Their disappearing water ballet is an amazing affair, cleverly devised with the aid of mirrors and made effective by unusual costuming.

The "ballet" girls march stoically into the pool—and disappear. They later emerge in gorgeous costumes for the "Egyptian Jewels" number.

"Miss Jantzen," the original poster-girl, in her well-known scarlet suit, is another attraction of the act.

The remainder of the vaudeville bill is highly amusing, with the exception of the Comopolitan Review, one of the best things of its kind seen here for months.

This revue is elaborately staged, boasts two agile dancers and a remarkably talented soloist. This girl, not listed on the program, is exceptionally lovely.

The four Cloverly Girls prove themselves indisputably "Queens of Clubs," with their amazing juggling, while Pein and Tensoo in "The Radio" manage to be entertaining, though their exotic settings for favorite songs are a bit amusing.

Davey Jamieson in "Doing His Stuff," is at his best when he starts dancing, while Mack and Cornell bring down the house with their unadulterated nonsense.

Not quite unadulterated, as that, for they are clever enough to mix a few "mammy" songs with their foolishness.

Louise Dresser gives a splendid portrayal in "Broken Hearts of Hollywood," the film feature.

'White Collars' Tells of Life in Harlem Flat

Frank Egan's comedy "White Collars" is about to enter its one hundred and twenty-ninth week at the Egan Theater.

This story of the incandescent wage-earners shows some intimate "impacts" of life in a Harlem flat—the coffee boiling over, the phonograph quawking next door, the comments of Cousin Henry perambulating out of a job, always about to get a good one and meanwhile undertaking to reform society.

There are the moves on the honkey-chessboard of Manhattan family life which cause chuckles to revolve in the throat of the public.

The cast is composed of J. Anthony Smythe, Gladys Heaney, Rose Forrester, Marjory Ays, Zelah Covington, Blanche Douglas, Paul Kruger, Gordon White and Frances Sheehan.

GLADYS GRACE HILL APPEARS IN CONCERT

A concert which is being looked forward to with much interest is to be given by Gladys Grace Hill, soprano, at the Bivouard Auditorium, Friday evening.

She will be assisted by Charles Wakefield Cadman and accompanied by Helen Beatrice Fomer, who is visiting Miss Hill from New York.

Miss Hill is a Los Angeles girl, having graduated from the University of Southern California, and recently returned to Los Angeles after three years of study in New York and abroad. She was formerly a pupil of Miss Anna Rossini Sprague.

Miss Hill has appeared with success in New York City, Rochester, N. Y., and Washington, D. C.

Among her successes were appearances in Washington, D. C., last spring. She sang for the Congressional Club there and received a re-engagement that resulted in six programs during Easter week.

These included an appearance with the Toledo Furdine Club; an appearance in a program before several hundred Congressmen and their wives; an engagement as soloist at exclusive Congressional Breakfast Club; a complete program of her own at the Walter Reid Hospital, and the singing of several groups of songs at a reception at the home of Senator and Mrs. Dale.

This coming season Miss Hill will be under the management of the National Music League, having been selected from a group of several hundred.

SHE ACTUALLY SAYS IT'S SO

This story may sound like beauty-parlor propaganda, but it comes straight from the shoulder of a strikingly attractive blonde, Helen Bolton, featured in "The Cradle Snatchers," which Louis O. MacLennan is bringing to the Playhouse Monday night by arrangement with Sam H. Harris of New York, where the farce is now in its second year.

Of course, Miss Bolton's is a golden bob.

She frankly says, "My hair touched up, yes. I rouge and I use a lip stick. And I admit that it makes me look younger. But that is not the reason I do use them. I am not trying to cheat the years. I just feel that I owe it to myself and the people I come in contact with to make myself just as pleasing to the eye as I try to be to the intellect. I go about this business of fixing myself up with the same feeling that I would about dressing a room to make it look as presentable and beautiful as possible."

BANK BANDITS
BELIEVED SHOTGuns Blaze as Trio Escapes With $2500 in CashBlood-Stained Overalls in Abandoned AutoDruggist and Branch Manager
Fire on Fleeing Car

Two supposedly wounded gunmen were being trailed by police and deputy sheriffs last night as an aftermath of the gun fight and robbery at noon of the Pacific National Bank agency at One Hundred and Eighth street and South Broadway.

The bandits obtained $2500 from the bank, but two of them are believed to have been seriously wounded in the gun duel which attended their escape. The machine which they used, stolen Sunday night, was found, riddled with shot a short time after the robbery, at One Hundred and Second and Denker streets. In it, deputy sheriffs found two blood-spattered suits of overalls worn by two of the three men in the robbery.

LEADER IS GIANT

The bandits stalked into the bank with drawn guns a few moments after the noon whistle had blown. There were three of them, the leader a giant weighing well over 200 pounds and towering six and a quarter feet in height.

Ed Smith, manager of the bank was at his desk in front. Jose De G. Oslo, teller, was in the rear as the bank's books.

"Well, we're here," muttered one of the bandits to Smith as the latter looked into the muzzle of the gun. The second bandit had vaulted the counter and covered Oslo while the third remained on guard near the front door.

Both Smith and Oslo were forced to the rear of the bank, while the bandit leader rifled the cash drawers of $2500. They backed out just as William Dolash, owner of the drug store across the street, stepped to the door with an automatic shotgun. He had been apprised of the robbery an instant before by one of his clerks, who saw what was happening.

BANDIT COLLAPSES

As the bandits climbed into their car, Mr. Dolash stepped out of his store and opened fire. The car swerved as the charge went home and one of the bandits in the back seat was seen to collapse. Mr. Dolash emptied his shot gun at the bandit machine, shattering the windshield and riddling the back.

The bandits answered at once, firing again and again at the drug-store owner but missing him. As their car sped

DEATH WARNING
FOR AUTOISTSDriving of Car Declared By Safety Man to Be Most Serious Business

Driving an automobile is a more serious occupation than any other, because it is a matter of life and death, declared Officer E. H. Cooper of the Bureau of Public Safety, in a noontime address yesterday over Radio KJL, The Times' broadcasting station. He read statistics showing that more deaths were caused by automobiles last year than by any other cause combined, and that in California the average is 3.7 daily slain by motor cars and 2.5 by firearms and knives.

"You may have a bad day's business and lose thousands of dollars, but if you have a bad day in driving you may lose life and limb," he said.

"Most automobile accidents, like most business failures, are due to the driver not keeping his mind on his business."

A fight film on traffic safety, accompanied by a lecture by Sgt. Johnson of the safety bureau, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. today at the Exposition Park band stand.

Who'll thrive on their inexperience?

MONEY does not take care of itself. With no restraint upon it, capital soon disappears. Yet men of sound judgment in other matters often bequeath a lump sum of money to their heirs. Who thrives upon their inexperience in the investing of it?

Once the danger, of assuming that your beneficiaries can perpetuate your skill in managing your affairs, is understood the remedy is simple. Appointment of a trustee specializing in management of estates will assure equitable execution of your plans.

It is but a matter of a few moments to make this Trust Company your trustee. Have your lawyer prepare an instrument authorizing us to act as trustees in the capacity you select. Then, at the proper time, your instructions will be carried out to the letter.

Information on the business advantages and cost of our services is given freely. An Officer will be pleased to explain our methods of systematic, responsible management of estates. Come in. Talk with him.

GREETED HERE

gratifying results. Within a few months we expect to put on a daylight limited train between Los Angeles and the San Joaquin Valley.

AUTOS AND ROADS

"The popularity of motor travel is not entirely to the disadvantage of the railroads," continued the speaker. "We are a nation in motion. People have formed the habit of traveling and the railroads must see to it that they receive their fair share of business in regard to transportation of individuals and groups of individuals."

Stephen T. Mather, director National Park Service, Department of the Interior, outlined the recent visit of Crown Prince Gustavus Adolphus and Princess Louise of Sweden, to the Yellowstone and other national parks, and described the grandeur of the reserves. He also described the so-called "competition" existing between the carriers and automobiles, and advised the delegates to create more business during the vacation period.

Upon the motion of Tom Fitzgerald, aid, general agent of the Southern Pacific, the delegates instructed Secretary Paul C. Benedict to send a telegram to the Governor of Florida, expressing sympathy of the delegates for the people of that State and offering any possible aid in helping to relieve the distress caused by the recent storm.

This morning the delegates will be taken for a drive through many of the interesting sections of Los Angeles and will be served luncheon at the Palms Drive Hotel.

Monday. The day's program will include visits to Warner Brothers and other motion-picture studios. At 7 p.m. today the association members will be guests of the Chamber of Commerce at a banquet at the Ambassador. A dance will follow the dinner.

VISIT CATALINA ISLAND

Leaving the Pacific Electric station at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow the delegates will go to Wilmington and thence to Catalina Island. Returning from Catalina, the guests will be taken to San Gabriel and enjoy a barbecue on the grounds of the Jones estate. Following the feast, the festa scene from the Mission Play will be shown, after which the delegates will return to Los Angeles. The day and evening's entertainment will be given with the compliments and assistance of the Pacific Electric Railway, Wilmington
Transportation Company, William Wrigley, Jr., the San Gabriel Chamber of Commerce and John S. Mc-Groarty.

Thursday at 10 a.m. a special Pacific Electric train will take the visitors to Pasadena for a trip to points of interest in that city and at noon luncheon will be served at Brookside Park. The party will then visit the Pacific Electric car shops, and then will be taken to Mt. Lowe for supper.

One result of the A.A.P.A. convention in Los Angeles will be the heaviest winter travel to this State in history, according to the opinion expressed yesterday by J. M. Connel, general passenger agent of the Santa Fe at Topeka, Kan.

The following officers were elected: President, H. J. Van Winkle of Chicago, division passenger agent; Secretary, J. T. Degan, Culver City contractor; M. G. Russell and Benjamin Buque, were allowed to continue their freedom on bonds ranging from $20,000 to $30,000.

STREET FUNDS ALLOCATED
The allocation of $8500 toward the expense of opening, widening and improvement of Central avenue from Florence avenue to Manchester avenue was approved by the City Council yesterday on account of the general benefit to be received by the improvement of this major traffic artery. The $8500 is 11 per cent of the cost of the improvement.

Francis Payne of Lancaster, Enn. has been elected to the post he has held for the last five years. Including ten great-grandchildren.

most in the inception and marines who had maintained a watch over the group since their arrest pointed out thirteen of the prisoners who appeared to have taken the initiative. These thirteen immediately were hustled away to the San Diego County Jail, where a special watch has been maintained over them for two weeks. Included among these were Carlos Alcantar, Nicholas Rodriguez, Ramon Nijaca, Miguel Comanduran, Jose Manzanarez, Juan Estrada, Aurelia Sepulveda, Santiago Martinez, Faustino Garcia, Jose Garcia, R. B. Arnaz, Carlos Lopez and Federico Silva.

Lopez was by far the most striking of the lot and held himself aloof on the train yesterday.

Though inferior members of the army were arraigned and pleaded not guilty last Friday in San Diego before Judge Henning, the ring-leaders as designated by government officials were omitted and were scheduled to stand trial before Judge Henning in Los Angeles. The scheduled appearance was set over for two weeks and the principals, Gen. Estrada, Jose S. Healy, his secretary, J. T. Degan, Culver City contractor, M. G. Russell and Benjamin Buque, were allowed to continue their freedom on bonds ranging from $20,000 to $30,000.

GIRL BABY FOUND DESERTED

Police Seek Mother Who Hoped for Boy

A ONE-MONTH-OLD baby girl, clothed in the pink-trimmed garb that told of an expectant mother who had hoped it would be a boy, was found fast asleep in a vacant lot at the rear of 821 Annandale Boulevard yesterday. The discovery was made by Mrs. H. La France of 817 Annandale Boulevard, who saw the tiny bundle from her kitchen window and walked to it, believing it was her daughter's doll.

While the slumbering child was simply dressed, its clothing—from lace-trimmed dress of many careful stitches to underclothing of down—bespoke a woman who had prepared long in advance for her arrival. But the pink blanket and trimmings told the story of one who had wished for a boy baby.

Officer Urday of Highland Park Division officially took the baby to the Receiving Hospital but he was really an ex-officio member of the party for Mrs. La France was the actual custodian. The child was subsequently removed to juvenile headquarters at 116 West Temple street while a search is being conducted for the parents.

DRUG CHARGE BRINGS
TWO-YEAR SENTENCE

Two years in the Federal penitentiary at Carson City, Nev., was the sentence meted out to W. C. Boardman yesterday by United States District Judge Henning on a plea of guilty entered by the man to a charge of uttering a false affidavit two years ago to obtain narcotics. He was arrested in Fresno recently after a two-year search.

The Homeless Infant

TRY A PATTERN FLOOR FOR YOUR CHEERLESS ROOMSays interior architect and editor,
R. W. Sexton

"What is the matter with this entrance hall?" a discouraged home-planner recently asked me. She had planned a hall of Spanish character. She had planned well, too—rough-textured walls, leaded glass windows, appropriate furniture.

Yet there was something the matter with that room. It lacked unity. And the perplexed owner appealed to me.

The trouble lay underfoot

The furnishings were certainly in good taste. The wall was quite suitable, too. But the floor—ah, there lay the trouble! It had no relation to the room-spirit; this woman was trying to secure.

My advice was to install a linoleum floor of color and design. I knew just the pattern she needed to make this room was an Embossed Handcraft Tile Inlaid—a red quarry tile design patterned in natural relief.

This floor has a texture quite suitable to rough-textured walls. It has the color and pattern that make any room bright and cheerful. And, of course, being cork linoleum, it is warm and comfortable underfoot.

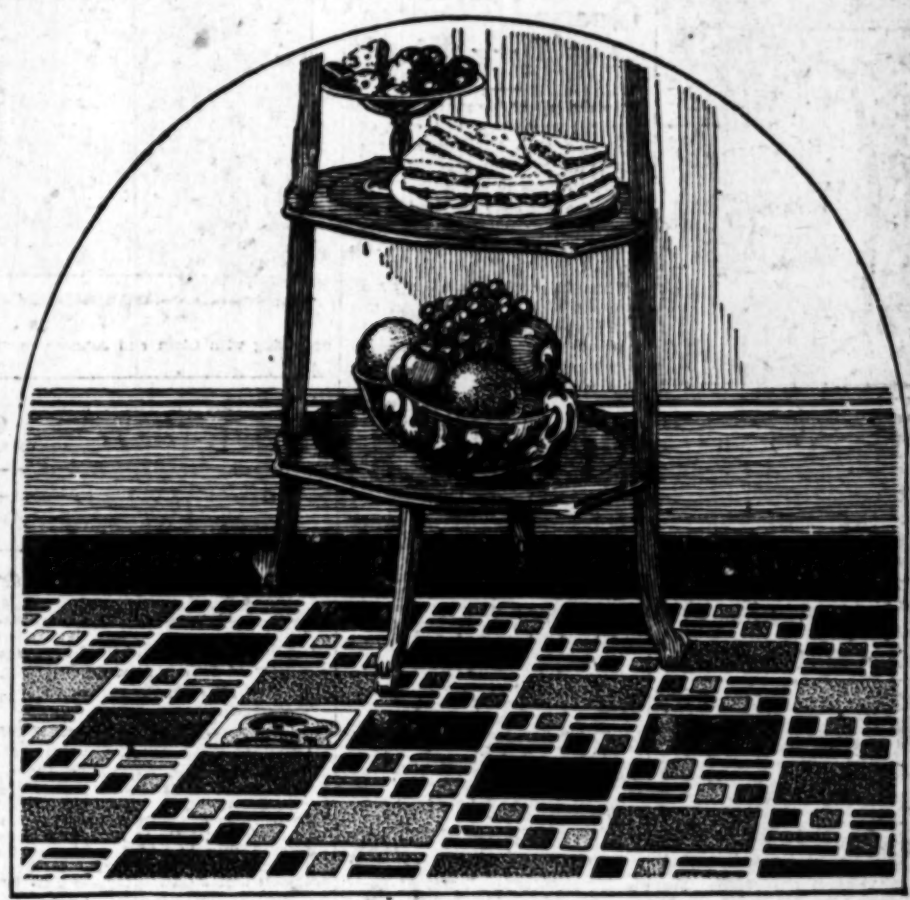

20,000 Women Wrote
for this FREE Book

LANCASTER, PA.—From every state in the Union home-planners have written to Hazel Dell Brown to ask her help in redecorating their rooms. They invariably find her plans simple, helpful, and successful.

Now Mrs. Brown has written a short, twenty-four-page book describing her unique method of interior decorating with the use of linoleum floors.

She has illustrated this new book with color paintings of model interiors, photographs of homes little and homes large. Finally, she has devoted some six pages to color reproductions of linoleum patterns.

The title of her book is "The Attractive Home—How to Plan Its Decoration." She will be glad to send you a copy. Address: Armstrong Cork Company, Linoleum Division, Lancaster, Pa.

The floor Mr. R. W. Sexton describes—embossed linoleum in which the tiles stand slightly apraised

"Do you mean that this linoleum is actually embossed?"

Different from any floor you know. Soft, comfortable linoleum tiles that are actually raised above the surface of the goods.

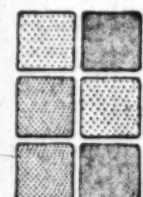

A PRETTY, NEW, inexpensive floor is now being shown at local home-furnishing stores. It is called Armstrong's Embossed Handcraft Tile Inlaid.

Decorators say it is a revelation in floor design. "Why, you have achieved 'texture'!" they say. By "texture" they mean that instead of the usual smooth surface, this linoleum has the artistic character of hand-set tiles. The mortar lines framing these tiles are pressed below the surface, thus:

The tiles themselves are of varying but harmonious shades ingeniously combined in pleasing color combinations. There is no appearance of pattern repeat. In some patterns quaint, emblematic figures have been decoratively spotted.

Every inch of this pattern is inlaid. It is Armstrong's latest contribution to prettier floors. Offered in eleven patterns, from the prevailing shades of green to tapestry tans and brick reds.

Another selected group of NEW inlaid patterns

In addition, Armstrong offers a new group of inlaid patterns. From hundreds considered, these have been chosen for their beauty of color, their fine design, their harmony with other furnishings. These patterns include block motifs, handcraft designs, and neat close figures; also a new kind of Marbleized linoleum. Armstrong's Marbleized Inlaid Linoleum is just what its name implies—even the marble graining is inlaid.

Laid right, these floors are easy to care for

MOST local stores have a staff of skilled layers who specialize in cementing these floors in place over a lining of builders' deslending felt. Except for an occasional waxing and polishing—a waxing that brings out the true beauty of the floor and lends a rich luster to the colors—they need practically no further attention.

Laid this way, these floors lie smooth and tight. They need no scrubbing. They form a background of color that shows rugs and furniture at their very best.
